

Luebeck Colloquium on Psychological Humanities

Organizers: Lisa Malich, Eva Barlösius, Cornelius Borck, Uljana Feest, Jonas Obleser, Torsten Wilholt
 Organizing Institutions: Leibniz Center for Science and Society (University of Hannover) & Institute for the History of Medicine and Science Studies, Department of Psychology (University of Luebeck)

Replication of Crises: Psychology in Times of Epistemic Upheaval
 September 19th – 20th 2019
 Lübeck, IMGWF

Preliminary Program

Thursday, September 19th
10:00 – 10:30	Lisa Malich, Uljana Feest, Cornelius Borck	Welcome and Opening Remarks
Session I: Mapping the Replication Crisis
Chair: Cornelius Borck
10:30 – 11:10	Nicole Nelson	Jumping the Species Barrier: Reproducibility Concerns as a Trans- disciplinary Phenomenon
11:10 – 11:30	Coffee break
11:30 – 12:10	Ivan Flis	What is the Scientific Literature? Replication Crisis, Psychology's Reform, and Cumulativeness
12:10 – 12:50	Jill Morawski	Bringing Psychology's Objects into the Light at a Time of Crisis
12:50 – 14:00	Lunch
Session II: Methodological Issues
Chair: Jonas Obleser
14:00 – 14:40	Marcus Munafo	Scientific Ecosystems and Research Reproducibility
14:40 – 15:20	Morgan Thompson	Can Methodological Triangulation Save Implicit Attitudes from the Replication Crisis?
15:20 – 16:00	Mario Gollwitzer	The Replicability Debate in Psychological Science: Three "Subjective Models" and the Respective Remedies That They Imply
16:00 – 16:30	Coffee break
Session III: The Materiality of Replication
Chair: Lisa Malich
16:30 – 17:10	Eva Barlösius, Uljana Feest & Torsten Wilholt	From Raw Data to Primary Data: Research Practices Tacit Assumptions and Replicability
17:10 – 17:50	Julia Scholz	Agential Realism sees Realization Potential Instead of True Score plus Error
19:00	Conference Dinner

Friday, September 20th
Session IV: Normative Issues
Chair: Uljana Feest
9:30 – 10:10	Maarten Derksen	The Tone Debate: How to be Critical in Science
10:10 – 10:50	Simine Vazire	The Credibility Revolution in Psychology
10:50 – 11:10	Coffee break
Session V: Social and Empirical Issues
Chair: Torsten Wilholt
11:10 – 11:50	Nora Hangel	Scientists' Accounts Informing Philosophical Analysis about Reliability and Uncertainty: Benefits and Limitations
11:50 – 12:30	Frieder Paulus	Contextualizing Replication in the Organization of the Academic Work Force
12:30 – 13:40	Lunch Break
Session VI: Historical Perspectives on the Replication Crisis
Chair: Eva Barlösius
13:40 – 14:20	Annette Mülberger	Why Replicate? Functions of Replication in Psychology in the 19 th and early 20 th Centuries
14:20 – 15:00	Sascha Topp	Methods, Margins, Mutiny? David Marc Mantell, Paul Matussek and the Milgram Replicate Tests in the Max-Planck Society, Germany (1970/1971)
15:00 – 15:40	Wolfgang Maiers	Replication Crisis – just Another Instance of the Replication of Crises in Psychology? Historical Retrospections and Theoretical-Psychological Assessments
15:40 – 16:00	Coffee Break
16:00 – 16:20	Felicity Callard	Commentaries
16:20 – 16:40	Uljana Feest
16:40 – 17:15	Lisa Malich (moderation)	Final Discussion
17:15	End of the Workshop

Venue:

Luebeck University
 Institut für Medizingeschichte und Wissenschaftsforschung (IMGWF)
 Universität zu Lübeck
 Königstrasse 42
 23552 Lübeck, Germany